

CARL HARD'S RECORD CALLED FOR PRAISE

Former Salt Laker, Suicide in Manila, Had Nothing to Fear From Inquiry.

RESULT OF ILL-HEALTH

Had Not Slept for Many Nights Before Desperate
Deed Was Committed.

Details of the suicide of Carl Hard in the Philippines on January 24, are contained in the Manila Times, which arrived in Salt Lake yesterday. Mr. Hard was formerly a reporter on The Tribune, and was well known in Salt Lake. His father and two sisters live in this city.

At the time of Mr. Hard's act it was suggested that he was moved to self-destruction by fear of the consequences of a certain police investigation in progress in Manila. Mr. Hard was assistant chief of the city detective bureau. From the testimony given by officials, however, it is clearly shown that there was not the slightest suspicion against Hard; that his account was straight; that his work had been capable and effective. The following is a portion of the article appearing in the Manila Times:

Mr. Hard had been suffering for some months from insomnia and nervousness, and last month spent a three weeks' vacation in Baguio in the hope of recuperating his health. He came back in a somewhat better physical condition, but the old troubles soon manifested themselves and for the past two weeks he had been on the verge of a complete breakdown. Yesterday morning he called upon Dr. Stafford for the purpose of obtaining relief. In the afternoon, at about 4 o'clock, he was in the office of Captain Seaver, the acting chief of the bureau, and seemed to be in a more than usually melancholy and despondent mood, stating that he had not slept for the past three or four nights.

Story of Suicide.

The only authentic information of the actual occurrence comes from Captain Harmon, who shared quarters with Mr. Hard. He stated:

"At about 10 o'clock, when I came in, Hard was apparently asleep, as he said that I had awakened him. I then went to sleep and about 1 o'clock I heard someone in the place, and I said: 'Is that you, Hard?' He said: 'Yes,' and he added that he had been unable to sleep. I then told him to take a walk on the Luneta, it might steady his nerves. At 4:02 in the morning I was awakened by a pistol shot and immediately went to Hard's room and found him on the floor with a bullet wound in his head."

It seems Hard had arisen and, securing a police .22-caliber Colt from the wardrobe, placed the muzzle against his head behind the lower part of the right ear, and fired, the bullet deflecting and lodging near the skin in his right temple. He was immediately taken to the hospital, where part of the bullet was extracted, but as it was not believed still to remain. The brain was pierced and several blood clots thereon were removed by the surgeons.

Motive for Action.

As to the motive, it is unanimously ascribed to the stress and worry under which Mr. Hard has been placed in the past year, as he was of a very nervous and sensitive disposition and took very much to heart any criticism of himself or his department. As to his having any fear of criminal prosecution, Mr. Hard, who was well considered, as he was informed by Captain Seaver yesterday afternoon, that there were no charges whatever against him, and Mr. Harve, in charge of the investigating committee, today stated that there never had been any evidence what ever implicating Hard in any graft and that there had been no charges against him, nor had any such been contemplated.

Record Was Clear.

Major Bishop, the prosecuting attorney, in commenting on this affair, said:

"In all of the papers and records submitted to me by Captain Green with reference to any investigation of the secret service, there has not been a single word that reflects directly or indirectly on Mr. Hard, and in the subsequent investigation by myself, in connection with the constabulary, there was no mention of evidence of graft against Hard, and so far as I know there has been nothing in the present investigation. The only time I heard his name mentioned was with reference to a matter which had no connection with the so-called police or secret service graft cases, and this matter did not reflect on Mr. Hard in the slightest degree."

"As to his integrity, since Captain Seaver has taken charge of the service and put Mr. Hard, at his own request, to what we call outside work, there have been the most satisfactory results, and the two most serious cases which have been presented to this office within the past week were handled by Hard, both of which were delicate and both of which were handled with more than usual skill."

URGES UNITED EFFORT OF MANUFACTURERS

D. F. Collett, secretary to the Manufacturers' association, was yesterday instructed by President George S. McCall to make all effort to have a big attendance of all committees at the meeting to be held in the Vermont building at 8 o'clock tonight.

On that account all committee members are asked to be at the meeting to discuss this report to the end that immediate action be had.

AMUSEMENTS

COLONIAL THEATER—"The Deep Purple" beginning tonight. Curtain, 8:15.

ORPHEUM THEATER—Advanced vaudeville. All week. Matinee daily at 2:15. Evening curtain, 8:15.

GARRICK THEATER—"The Dollar Mark" Matinee this afternoon, 2:15. Curtain tonight, 8:15.

EMPERESS THEATER—Sullivan-Considine vaudeville. Matinee daily at 2:15. Two evening performances, at 7:30 and 9:15. Bill changes Wednesday afternoon.

The Empress opened its twentieth week yesterday afternoon. Since the opening of the house last fall an aggregate of between 125 and 130 acts of the usual vaudeville variety have been presented on the Empress stage. Of this number the proportion of acrobatic and gymnastic acts has been about thirty-five. If the climactic feats of each of these acts were executed by a group of gymnasts chosen from the most dextrous performers who have appeared on the Empress stage, the act so made would fall far short of equality with the act of the Mettett troupe of eight acrobats.

Of this troupe the programme says: "They present amazing and incredible feats of marvellous achievements, fascinating like meteors in the heavens." This is a circus applier's way of describing the act, yet the high-sounding composition scarcely does the remarkable feats of these performers justice. Their act is the most amazing of its kind seen in local vaudeville.

Individual opinion will classify the other acts on the new Empress bill to suit itself. Marin and Lona open the programme with an exhibition of juggling and balancing that is equal to the best that has reached Salt Lake via the C. & S. route.

Maria Lavarra is scheduled as the second entertainer on the bill. She is a comedienne of the fetching type, dainty and graceful, with a good voice, in the using of which she resorts to little tricks of expression that give originality to her mode of singing.

James Grady & Co. present a comedy sketch which is a gem in the characterization. The story is that of an old, hard-shelled toll bridge keeper who had driven his only son "across the bridge" twenty years before. The playlet shows how his heart becomes softened when the little daughter of the banished son, after the latter died, "crosses the bridge" in search of her grandfather. Mr. Grady appears as the old bridge keeper, and his portrayal of the peevish old man is a clever bit of character work as is seldom to be enjoyed in vaudeville. Madeleine Clark and Ben L. Peas are both capable players and compose Mr. Grady's support.

Miss Cecile and company combine posing, singing and dancing in a very attractive act, which is fast, clean and enjoyable all the way through.

Fred Edholm and Anna Gordon present a dialogue and musical comedy in which a number of instruments are enlisted in an unique manner in the fun-making. Edholm is a versatile musician on brass and reed instruments. Miss Gordon finds an opportunity to insert several pleasing songs and also plays the trombone in accompaniment to her partner's instrumental efforts.

The playlet is an interesting comedy. "The Deep Purple," which Leibler & Co., the producing managers, proclaim as "another play with a punch," opens a three days' engagement at the Colonial theater tonight. The word "punch" in its dramatic connection, probably has not yet found its way into any book of dramatic technique, but it means a big climax or a thrill that has something of dramatic value behind it. In advertising "The Deep Purple" as "another play with a punch," the producers obviously allude to another of Paul Armstrong's successes, "Alias Jimmie Valentine." In the preceding cast of "The Deep Purple" then is Walter Edwards, a former stock leading man of the old Grand theater, and

LYSTER CHAMBERS.
Who Plays One of the Leading Roles in "The Deep Purple."

Lyster Chambers, formerly a member of the Harry Leighton players.

Ernie and Mildred Potts is the firm name of a number on this week's programme at the Empress, in which Ernie earns the pay with a remarkable exhibition of back punching. Potts is well known among the sporting fraternity as "Kid Selby," the winner of many battles in the ring, and incidentally the man who saved Billy Papke his first boxing lessons and went into the latter's corner.

Several of his earlier battles, Mildred, his wife, sings and dances during the back-punching exhibition.

For the matinee performance at the Garrick this afternoon of George Broadhurst's drama of love and finance, "The Dollar Mark," Manager Rogers reports an extremely heavy advance reservation of seats. The play is an exponent of the theory that the so-called misuse of wealth in this country must sooner or later be curbed for the common good of the masses. For the coming week the Garrick company has in preparation George M. Cohan's comedy success, "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway."

The Garrick production of the Cohan play, which opens Sunday night, will be the first ever attempted in the west.

The seat sale for the week's engagement of Klaw & Erlanger's latest musical success, "The Pink Lady," at the Salt Lake theater beginning next Monday night, opens tomorrow morning. The organization includes a company of ninety people, and it is said that the production has been staged exactly as it was produced in New York, where it ran more than 400 performances.

Oliver Vail, who portrays the title role in "Miss Nobody from Starland," which comes to the Colonial theater Sunday night for an engagement of two nights, wants to retire from the stage and become a farmer. She admits she knows nothing about farming, but she declares, in her breezy manner, neither did she know anything about acting when she contemplated a stage career. Seats for the local engagement of "Miss Nobody from Starland" go on sale at the box office tomorrow morning.

WILL DISCUSS PLANS FOR BIG STATE FAIR

Secretary Horace S. Ensign of the State Fair association has issued notices concerning the meeting of the board of directors of the fair that is to be held at the Vermont building at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Mr. Ensign is anxious to have all members of the directorate present, inasmuch as reports from department supervisors are to be received and considered. It is anticipated that these will recommend several enlargements and other changes of general improvement work. Immediate action on these recommendations is desired, and it is the hope that all directors will be present to consider the changes recommended.

GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY BANISHED; DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR STOPPED

Remedy Made from Garden
Sage and Sulphur Restores
Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs which unfortunately are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hair, however, handsome it may be, makes a person look old. We all know the advantages of being young. Aside from the good impression a youthful appearance makes on others, simply knowing that you are "looking fit" gives one courage to undertake and accomplish things. So why suffer the handicap of looking old on account of gray hairs, when a simple remedy will give your hair youthful color and beauty in a few days' time?

Most people know that common garden sage acts as a color restorer and scalp tonic as well. Our grandmothers used a "Sage Tea" for keeping their hair dark, soft and luxuriant. In Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy we have an ideal preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp and thin, weak hair that is split at the ends or constantly coming out. A few applications of this valuable remedy will bring back the color, and in a short time it will remove every trace of dandruff and greatly improve the growth and appearance of the hair.

Get a fifty-cent bottle from your druggist today, and notice the difference in your hair after a few days' treatment. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Special agents—Schramm-Johnson Drugs, "The Never Substitutors," five (5) good stores.

LYSTER CHAMBERS, who plays the "badger man" in "The Deep Purple," which opens at the Colonial theater tonight, is the son of Mrs. E. J. Chambers of this city, and a brother of Mrs. William P. Kiser. He is well known to local theatergoers, having appeared here as leading man with the Harry Leighton players several seasons ago. His last appearance in Salt Lake was in a dramatic playlet called "The Operator" at the Orpheum.

SUNSET MAGAZINE WILL BOOST UTAH

W. Woodhead, manager of the Sunset Magazine Publishing company, was a visitor in the city yesterday. Mr. Woodhead came to arrange for the boost number on Utah to be published in the magazine in the near future.

According to Mr. Woodhead, the article will be prepared and written by Walter V. Woolhise, whose writings on subjects of the kind are appearing in the leading periodicals of the country.

Secretary Joseph E. Caine of the Commercial club said yesterday that Mr. Woolhise would probably arrive here about July 1, when both men will cooperate on the future publication. Mr. Woolhise will make a tour of the state for study purposes and will gather data for use in the article.

D. H. CHRISTENSEN HOME FROM EAST

At Louisville, Mr. Christensen was impressed with the system of separate high schools for boys and girls.

Mr. Christensen also visited the negro university at Nashville, Tenn., and the public schools of Cincinnati.

Margette and the Langdon Lime & Cement company to recover the sum of $14,652.25 alleged to be due on a promissory note, secured by a mortgage on real estate.
